PROFESSIONAL BACKGROUND

One of Nevada's most experienced gaming law practitioners, Mr. Hicks' primary areas of practice are gaming law and related corporate, litigation, and transactional matters. His clients include many well-known Nevada resort gaming operators and gaming equipment suppliers and Nevada's largest Native American gaming operation. He has represented publicly traded gaming companies and their controlling persons, as well as many privately owned gaming establishments and their owners on gaming matters in the State of Nevada and other jurisdictions.

Mr. Hicks has also consulted on gaming matters for major investment banking firms and commercial lenders. He frequently serves as a Nevada counsel on large transactional matters and related financings to companies involved in the gaming industry. Although based in Reno, Mr. Hicks also works out of McDonald Carano's Las Vegas office, and many of his clients and their matters are located in that area.

Mr. Hicks has served as an expert witness on gaming law matters, published numerous articles on gaming issues, and testified before the U.S. Congress and the Nevada State Legislature on gaming matters. He served as Chief Deputy Attorney General for the State of Nevada and the Nevada Gaming Commission in a landmark case that rid the gaming industry of the last vestiges of organized crime. As a result of his extensive regulatory experience, he often assists his clients on compliance matters and other sensitive licensing and regulatory issues.

AREAS OF EXPERIENCE

Gaming & Administrative Law

Mr. Hicks has more than 40 years of experience dealing with gaming matters, including counseling and representing people and entities proposing to enter the gaming industry; lenders dealing with gaming operators, including lenders involved in financial restructurings of gaming companies; private and public companies involved in the gaming industry; and high net worth individuals involved in the gaming industry throughout America. He represents such clients in all gaming matters, including licensing, compliance, and operational matters subject to gaming regulation. Mr. Hicks also works with manufacturers and distributors of gaming devices and gaming systems and with Native American gaming operations. He is often called on to assist lenders and other interested parties in creditor proceedings involving licensed gaming companies.

Business Entities & Transactions

Not limiting himself to companies in the gaming industry, Mr. Hicks is also experienced in the formation, operation, and financing of business entities of all types. He works with numerous Nevada corporations and their out-of-state counsel on local matters, including
