PROFESSIONAL BACKGROUND

Josh Hicks leads the firm's Government Affairs & Advocacy Group. He represents clients before the Nevada legislature, local governments, and state government agencies, and advises on all aspects of Nevada campaign finance and election law, including ballot initiatives. Josh is also a member of the firm's Tax Law Group and provides counsel on local jurisdiction tax matters ranging from tax planning to litigated tax controversies.

Before joining McDonald Carano, Josh was a registered lobbyist in the private sector. Before that, he served as chief of staff to Governor Jim Gibbons, and as general counsel and deputy chief of staff to the governor. During his tenure at the governor's office, Josh worked through two regular sessions and three special sessions of the Nevada legislature, including 2009, when the governor and legislature confronted one of the most severe economic downturns in the state's history.

Josh has also worked closely with legislators on bills in areas of Nevada law, including energy regulation, renewable energy incentives, taxation, water and natural resources, telecommunications, transportation, financial regulation, stimulus funds, gaming, healthcare, elections, wildlife, and fire prevention initiatives at Lake Tahoe. In addition, Josh was involved in the development of the state budget, including appropriations and expenditures. He was instrumental in developing the tax amnesty program used by Nevada in 2008 to bring in more than $40 million in unpaid taxes. Moreover, Josh assisted with the budget crisis and supported Nevada taxpayers with relief from penalties and interest on outstanding tax debt. Josh was also the governor's primary liaison with federal, state, and local government agencies and business and industry representatives.

Before working in the governor's office, Josh was senior deputy attorney general in the Nevada Attorney General's Office, where he represented the Nevada Department of Taxation, the Nevada Tax Commission, and the Nevada Secretary of State.

He also served as a law clerk to the Honorable Deborah A. Agosti of the Nevada Supreme Court and the Honorable Robert A. McQuaid, Jr. of the United States District Court for the District of Nevada.

An effective advocate and charismatic speaker, Josh has testified many times before various state legislative committees, including the Senate Finance, Assembly Ways and Means, and the Interim Finance Committees. An effective communicator and a prolific author, Josh continues to draft and revise legislation and administrative regulations. A fourth-generation Nevadan, Josh resides with his family in Reno.
