Lucas helps clients in a variety of industries develop comprehensive strategies to tackle policy and regulatory challenges in Nevada. Equipped with industry experience and an on-the-ground perspective from previous work in government, Lucas represents clients before the Nevada Legislature and state and local government in a wide range of regulatory and government affairs matters. Lucas chairs the Energy, Environment & Natural Resources Law Practice.

In his regulatory practice, Lucas has significant experience on issues facing the energy industry, representing some of the largest energy users in the state in general rate cases and other contested proceedings before the Public Utilities Commission. For example, he represented several of the largest gaming companies in Nevada Power Company's general rate case. His practice extends to environmental permitting and compliance matters, including environmental permitting due diligence for renewable energy projects and general environmental compliance matters. He also negotiates power purchase agreements on behalf of clients.

Outside the energy field, Lucas has represented clients before numerous other state and local agencies on regulatory matters, including licensing applications and regulatory enforcement actions. These agencies include the Nevada Gaming Control Board and the Nevada Gaming Commission (representing applicants for Nevada gaming licenses), the Financial Institutions Division, the Division of Purchasing, the Board of Medical Examiners, the Nevada Transportation Authority, the Mortgage Lending Division, the Nevada Department of Taxation, the Nevada Division of Environmental Protection, the Real Estate Division, the Division of Insurance, the Department of Health and Human Services, the Board of Pharmacy, the Department of Motor Vehicles and the Division of Water Resources. He also handles appeals of administrative matters in state court, having litigated cases to the Nevada Supreme Court.

In his government affairs practice, Lucas lobbies at the state and local levels, where he blends his knowledge of the law with his political judgment to assure successful outcomes for clients.

Prior to joining the Firm, Lucas served as general counsel and policy director to Nevada Governor Brian Sandoval, where he advised the Governor on legal matters in a variety of areas, including separation of powers, legislative process and administrative law. He also led the development of the Governor's policy agenda and worked closely with legislators to secure successful passage of many key initiatives. Prior to working in the Governor's Office, Lucas held the position of Assistant United States Attorney in the U.S. Attorneys Office – District of Nevada. He began his career as a law clerk for then U.S. District Court Judge Brian Sandoval.
