Professional Background

Ryan Works is Chair of the Bankruptcy, Insolvency & Financial Restructuring Group with McDonald Carano, working primarily in the areas of corporate bankruptcy and insolvency and business litigation.

Mr. Works regularly represents creditors and debtors both in and out of bankruptcy, including various single-purpose entities, small businesses, banks, construction companies, airline carriers, technology companies, individuals, and investors in numerous bankruptcy and receivership cases.

He has represented the debtor in possession in several small business and single-asset cases, as well as various banks and lending institutions. He also has significant experience representing clients in adversary and bankruptcy litigation matters and has represented many debtor entities in Chapter 7 liquidation proceedings. Mr. Works has experience defending preference and fraudulent transfer litigation and has handled various fraud cases and non-discharge matters.

In addition to his bankruptcy practice, Mr. Works is a member of the firm's litigation department, with a focus on construction law, mechanics' lien litigation, real estate law, commercial financing disputes under the Uniform Commercial Code, partnership disputes, and general defense of many local and national clients in federal and state courts.
